In Memoriam

Memories are lasting impressions made on our lives by special people. To the students of Giles High School, Mr. Harris was one of these outstanding people whose hard work and dedication to school spirit set an example for all. His stern yet fair manner earned our respect and a permanent place in our memories.

Dedication . . . Coach Ragsdale

Looking back, everyone remembers an outstanding person who made his life a little more special. This year, Giles High School had such an outstanding person. He worked continuously from the sweltering heat of summer practice to the stabbing cold of winter to help bring G.H.S. the AA Virginia state championship football title. Not only did he inspire his team to victory, but he also inspires his algebra and physics students to achieve their best academically. The 1981 Shield is dedicated to Coach Steve Ragsdale for giving the Spartan fans of Giles County a year they will always remember.

Football is not just a game, it is a way of life. To compete seriously a person must be totally dedicated and make many sacrifices. Long hours of practice, weather, and fatigue combine to make life during pre-season difficult at best. After enduring these adversities for what seems like an eternity the season opener finally arrives. The "Big Red" arrived at Parry McCluer with gritted teeth and churning stomachs. That feeling of determination continued throughout the season. They entered every game committed to the thought of winning — simply refusing to lose. After proving that they were a good football team, the team was reminded daily by the coaches of the dangers of over confidence. Taking each week one at a time enabled the team to concentrate solely on that week's objective — to win the game Friday night. The playoffs were no different. Each player pounded into his helmeted head, "If we lose this one, it's all over." At this point, football was too rewarding to end, and the team "tightened-up" and practiced even harder. The team feels that they owe part of their successful season to the school administration and fans who pulled them into one cohesive unit. They are also, in a sense, champions.

VARSITY CHEERLEADERS — THE BANDANAETTES

Starting in May, nine fearless girls began a year they would never forget. From the heat of summer clinic and long practices to the freezing chill of football weather, these girls worked continuously to cheer their teams on to victory. They painted signs, instigated spirit dress-up days, planned and performed in the school pep rallies, sponsored the home-coming dance, operated a concession stand as well as sang under the name of the Bandanaettes on the school PA. Who would think that those squawk-boxes could turn out a hit song like "Spartan Fever"? But, if you would ask any of these girls about the hard work, they would all agree it was well worth it. Besides, how often do you get to cheer for the State AA Champion football team?

J. V. CHEERLEADERS

Bouncing, bright blue and white uniforms symbolize the peppiest group of girls in the gym. Besides cheering for the eighth grade and J.V. football and basketball teams, the J.V. squad sparked spirit at all of the pep rallies. They worked hard selling programs at Varsity football games, helping with the concession stand at the basketball games, and painting signs that decorated the halls. They all enjoyed taking part in one of the most exciting seasons ever.

We Cannot Be Beaten

Unstoppable! That is the only way to describe this year's Eighth Grade football team. The team, led by running back Tyrone Meadows, instilled fear into the hearts of all other area football teams. A 7-0 record is ample proof that our Eighth Grade football team is indisputably a group of champions.

INJURIES PREVAIL

When August 11 rolled around, only seven girls showed up at the first practice. As a result of recruiting, only one more player was found. When team membership worries were over, the season began smoothly. Soon however, the worst types of injuries occurred — a broken wrist and then a torn knee cartilage. These injuries caused changes. Yvette Marshal moved up from the J.V. team and Sharon Price became a late addition. Victory still prevailed as the awards show. Congratulations to Junior Lisa Meredith and Senior Sandra Kelley for making Second and Third Team All New River District.

Hard Work Improves Skills

With all five starters returning, the J.V. had an exceptional season. Practicing with the Varsity was one main attribute to the fine season. Working hard, sharpening shooting skills, and learning new tactics also added to the closeness and teamwork these girls possessed. Coach Psathas, after two years of experience under the belt, had a fine team this year which should improve even more next year.

Practice Pays Off

The 1980-81 thin-clads ran countless miles in order to get in top shape. The running paid off. Not only did they win first place in 3 out of 5 regular season meets, but they placed second in the New River District. Steve and Barry Kast, two top runners, competed in the Region IV meet. Steve also competed in the Group AA State meet.

“YOUNGEST” TEAM

Running six miles a day under the sweltering heat of the sun at 3:30 in the afternoon shows real dedication. The girls' cross country team was the “youngest” ever in the history of Giles High School. Sophomore Emily Lawrence proved this as she competently led the team. All home meets were held at Castle Rock, including the District meet. After placing second in the District and fifth in the Region, the girls missed State by one place. All the time and effort put into practice paid off in the long run.

HOMECOMING

Each year homecoming week is anxiously awaited, and of course this year was no exception. Spartan fans dressed in red, white, and blue topped off with the ever popular bandana. All five classes showed their spirit and decorated the halls of Giles High with streamers, colorful posters, and balloons. The Sophomores emerged as first place winners with their theme "Bandana Street." Not only did the school rock with spirit during the day, but devoted class members worked at night constructing floats for the homecoming parade.

Then it was Friday! After a super pep rally, everyone gathered downtown to watch the homecoming parade. The Juniors come out victorious with their award winning first place float "Herbie Goes Bandanas." (To bad the Seniors' float "Spartan Spirit Explodes" exploded!) The spirit mounted and fans poured into the football stadium to see the superior Bandana Bunch, 6-0, take on the Wytheville Maroons.

The crowd was ecstatic, and the half-time activity "Bandana Extravaganza" added to the excitement of the night. Queen Ronda Myers and her court provided a touch of beauty and class as they paraded onto the field. After half-time, the Spartan Brickhouse returned to the field fired up and defeated the Maroons 27-0. The perfect night was topped with a victory dance in the G.H.S. cafeteria.

Spike! Bump! Set!

The Girls' Volleyball team had a trying season this year. Practicing five to six times a week paid off in only one victorious game. This amazing group of girls was able to maintain team spirit even though they were not greatly supported by the sports fans of Giles County. Their outstanding spirit was evident by the encouragement given to the players by those on the bench who continually shouted, "Let's go!" The most memorable game of the season was their victory against arch rival Narrows. The most memorable event during this otherwise uneventful year was the mix-up of playing courts with the George Wythe team. While the Maroons were on their way to play at Giles, the Spartans were travelling to Wytheville to play on the Maroon court. When each team reached their destination, they were disappointed to find no opponent.

Do-Si-Do and Mistletoe

On December 13, couples filled the G.H.S. cafeteria to enjoy dancing at the Winter Formal. The theme of this dance, sponsored by the Pep Club, was "Country Christmas" and the decorations added that special back on the farm look. Pine trees, hay bales, and a red barn door were just a few of the decorations responsible for that special atmosphere. But Pep Club members did not forget to add the holiday essentials such as burning candles, a fireplace, and a Christmas tree. Everyone seemed to enjoy the delicious refreshments and music by WTRY — Chip Sparr.

Yo amo España

Vicki Smith, Todd Tickle, Mrs. Snidow and Tammy Psathas try out their Spanish with a local man and his friend. Spanish students travelled in Spain with Mrs. Snidow and her family during Easter break. Madrid, Toledo, and Costa del Sol where they baked in the sun on the beaches were high points on their trip. After watching a flamenco dance, they decided that they preferred the disco.

President Todd Dennis rules with an iron hand.

Student Co-operative Association

With Bandana Extravaganza as their theme, the SCA managed to pull off an exciting homecoming week. Hall decorations, float decorations, and a bonfire were projects of the SCA. The club also joined the district SCA organization. Workshops were held in November and April. Among the many projects were the Alumni Basketball game and a presentation of yellow ribbons to each teacher in honor of the Iranian Hostages.

Artists Create

An enterprising Art Club combined creativity with service. For the Junior Woman's Club Mardi Gras Ball members painted a mural which was used as a decoration at the dance. Posters were made for the American Cancer Society and for Bicycle Safety Week, sponsored by the Home Extension Office. To finance their scholarship a car wash was held in May.

Hi-Yers Inspire, Serve

The purpose of the Hi-Y is to create, maintain, and extend high standards of Christian living. One way this theme was carried out by having members say the opening prayers at every home football game. To raise money for their service projects, the Hi-Y sold bumper stickers and plaques honoring the 1980 State Champion Football Team. A camping trip was planned for the spring to relax after all the hard work.

"My Fellow Delegates . . ."

This was a familiar beginning to many speeches heard at the Model General Assembly on April 21-23. Seven members of the Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y clubs and their sponsors, Mr. O'Brien and Mrs. Lynch traveled to Richmond for this annual conference. The program simulated the procedures of the Virginia General Assembly. Students participated as Senators, Delegates, Reporters, and Pages. Numerous bills were introduced in the Assembly. Standard procedure was followed as each bill passed through its committee, the floor of the House or Senate, and on to the Youth Governor. However, the conference was not all work. Each delegate had a memorable time learning about state government.

Members also gave their time to the Jaycees shopping tour. The tour is held at Christmas time for underprivileged children. After shopping for family presents, the children enjoyed a party with a visit from Santa Claus.

The Tri-Hi-Y Club is sponsored by the Virginia Y.M.C.A. Its primary purpose is to promote a Christian atmosphere in the school and in the community. To finance projects, a bake sale and car wash were held. This money was used to support a child in the Jaycee Shopping Tour, to help pay for the copy machine in the office, and to add to the general scholarship fund. In preparation for MGA, members attended both District Conference in Saltville and a workshop in Bedford. Rev. Rocky Ward spoke at a club meeting about applying Christian values to everyday life. A May picnic was held to close the year, at the Cascades.

Junior Tri-Hi-Y Tries, Succeeds

After a rough beginning, the Junior Tri-Hi-Y finally got moving. Although they are a junior division of the Tri-Hi-Y, the club has its own meetings and projects. One project was a collection for the Heart Fund. A disappointment for many members was the cancellation of the annual Junior Hi-Y Assembly at Ferrum College. However, the club ended their year with a picnic at the Cascades.

A car in the Homecoming Parade, a dinner at BONANZA, a picnic at the Cascades, and a bake sale to raise money for their scholarship were the activities of the French Club this year. A special event was the arrival of Franck Bermond (right), an exchange student from France. It was the first time in several years that the school had a French exchange student. Franck visited the U.S. for five weeks and found American life styles very different from those of his own. At the end of his three week stay, the French Club surprised Franck with a Bon Voyage party.

Monogram:

IT'S NOT JUST FOR GUYS.

With more and more emphasis being placed on girls' athletics, the number of Lady Spartans in the Monogram Club has steadily increased over the past few years. This year they even elected their first female president.

The club sold ink pens, t-shirts, and other various items. Mr. Martin was responsible for constantly reordering those vivid red GILES jackets which made the Spartan spectators at sporting events appear to be one vast sea of red.

LITERARY SOCIETY

Members Move!

To publish The Lacadamonian, a collection of poetry and art work created by club members, the Literary Society worked all year. They sold Spartan buttons, ink pens, stationery, carnations, and Christmas candles.

Along with publishing The Lacadamonian, the club entered their work in various poetry and short story contests.

For service projects, the club presented the coaches with carnations on National Coaches' Day and with a special cake; gave $25 for a new office copier; and donated books to schools in Giles County.

The highlight of the year was a trip to New York by 9 members of the club, their sponsor, and 3 other chaperones during Easter break. They stayed at the New York Sheraton and visited such landmarks as the U.N. Building, Macy's, Radio City Music Hall, and the Statue of Liberty.

The club members enjoyed a full and exciting year.

Record Attendance at Beauty Pageant

At the annual Miss GHS beauty pageant, sponsored by the Key Club, a new attendance record was set. The pageant is the primary moneymaking project of the Key Club. It enabled them to send five members and Mr. Jackson, their sponsor, to the annual Key Club Convention which was held in Ocean City, Maryland this year. To end the year, a scholarship fund was organized for a deserving senior.

Keyettes Serve Others

Service to others is what Keyettes is all about. In the fall, a canned food drive to aid the needy in our area was sponsored by this enterprising group. The club members also raked leaves to raise money. For Valentines' Day, they decorated the Senior Citizens' Center in preparation for a dance. At club meetings members discussed such topics as the Keyettes relationship to the Ki-wives, their involvement with the Senior Center in Pearisburg and preventive health measures.

Keyettes Work And Play

What do eggs, baby powder, and a special recipe have in common? Initiation! Girls from the tenth, eleventh, and twelfth grades were selected as members of Keyettes. They had to make it through a tough initiation before they had the privilege of becoming full-fledged members. After a formal ceremony at which each girl received a carnation, the initiation began. At school, the following day, the new members had to wear miniskirts, boots, and lots of makeup. It was all in fun and now they are proud members of the Keyettes.

Club Emphasizes Scholarship

Combine scholarship with service, leadership and character and you have a National Honor Society member. Twenty seven students were inducted into the National Honor Society during a tapping ceremony held in the fall. Stationery was sold to raise money. Top salespeople were awarded cash prizes. The club donated $25.00 to both the Library Expansion Fund and to the fund for the copying machine in the office. Members held a dinner in the spring to install new officers.

FFAers Do Service Projects

At the FFA State Convention, club members placed second in an Agricultural Mechanics Contest and third in the Livestock Judging. As a fund-raising project the club sold fruit. High salesperson was awarded a prize. As a service, they ordered strawberry plants, cut wood for the New River Valley Community Action Service, and planted trees around the school to beautify the landscape as well as to learn planting skills. In their Food for America Program, members visited the elementary schools to discuss food and its origin. They gave pencils to the elementary students and pens to their teachers. The year was not all work, however. A fishing trip, a club picnic, and a parent-member banquet highlighted their social activities.

Students Represent GHS in Forensics

Eighteen GHS students participated in our school forensic meet which was held January 19 and 20. Winner from eight categories traveled to Blacksburg High School March 19, to participate in the district meet. These students were: Barbie Barnett in Girls'

Poetry Reading, Paula McCormick in Girls' Prose Reading, Emily Lawrence in Girls' Original Oratory, Todd Wymer in Boys' Poetry Reading, Mike Ratcliff in Boys' Prose Reading, Steve Kast in Boys' Original Oratory, Tim Myers in Boys' Extemporane-

Providing an understanding of the scientific world is the primary objective of the Science Club. A trip to the Virginia Tech Observatory in the spring provided insight for the members. The club also supported Spartan spirit by selling State Championship Football mugs. At right, Mr. Ventry and Mr. Sawyer conduct an experiment during the club meeting.

STUDENTS ACTIVE IN EDUCATION

Future teachers were active in helping their teachers and their school. The Annual Teachers' Tea was held in the fall. Members and their teachers enjoyed this opportunity to socialize on an informal basis. During football season the SAE sold shakers to raise money. As a service to the school, members decorated various teachers' bulletin boards. The club contributed $25.00 towards the payment of the fence around the football field and the copying machine in the office. A group from Blacksburg High School was invited to visit GHS. The primary objective of the Pep Club is to promote enthusiasm at all sporting events at Giles High. This year the club members decorated store windows in Pearisburg and Pembroke before every football game; decorated school doors depicting the sport in season — football, basketball, or volleyball; decorated the bulletin board in the cafeteria; designed and sold Giles rain ponchos; sold over 600 state championship shirts; called lines for volleyball matches; made name signs for basketball; sponsored the annual Christmas Dance; and ended the year with its 3rd annual Athletic Awards Assembly, when all outstanding athletes were presented individual trophies and plaques. Adult boosters Janet and George Psathas were recognized for their outstanding contributions to school spirit.

Read All About It!

This year the Spartonian acquired a new format and a new staff, enabling us to have a successful school term. Having an hour a day for journalism provided the time and place for this new staff to show its expertise and spirit. A field trip to The Roanoke Times early in the year was both motivating and educationally valuable.

The Spartonian was able to publish almost once a month, and the staff gained valuable experience.

WHAT A YEAR!

Dedicated staffers survived a hectic year to put together the school yearbook. In the midst of lost utensils, destroyed photographs, and a never ending busy schedule, the students on the annual staff worked continuously to meet deadlines and capture the year in pictures and copy. Passing the staffroom, one might hear, "Where are those quad-paks? Gimme the grease pencil. I need PICTURES!" Thanks to the endurance of a few brave people and the never ending patience of advisor Mrs. Ward, the 1981 Shield was successfully completed and GHS's greatest year was preserved forever.

Reps Help

Representatives from each homeroom were chosen to help with yearbook business. Each representative was asked to sell ads to help finance the publication of the book. They also collected money from members of their homeroom for subscriptions. Dedicated volunteers helped immensely in the smooth running of yearbook business.

Everybody Sing

Record crowds besieged the concession stand during football season, so the Chorale was forced to start its year in a hurry. With its new name, "The Bandana Bar," and a sign designed by Jay Woods, the Chorale's Concession stand made more than sufficient funds for their busy year. The annual Christmas Concert was accompanied by a visit from Santa Claus. Christmas carols sung on the Courthouse lawn also spiced up the Christmas season. The Spring Concert was held in May along with the Alumni Chorale which sang its own music and then combined to sing with the Chorale. The Alumni Chorale was an innovative idea from Larry Marion, who is always looking for ways to improve the Chorale.

BAND, ATTEN-TION!

"Straighten your ranks; watch your files, go back across the field and take it from the beginning!" These words were often heard by Band members. By the end of football season, the Band had practiced and performed in every kind of weather from blistering heat to snow. Along with halftime performances there were parades, and pep rallies. The Band even won the Spirit Stick for the first time ever!

Practice for the spring concert began after football season. This was interrupted in April when the Band again started practicing to prepare for its spring trip to Statesville, N.C. There they received a participation trophy and were treated to trip to Carowinds. It was certainly a year full of activities!

RETROSPECT

First of all there was the anticipation of try-outs and in the summer a week at clinic to learn routines and skills.

Then came practices and before anyone knew it, football season was underway. There were endless routine changes, more practices and parades. Concert rehearsal began then suddenly it was April and time to practice again.

At the Carolina Dogwood Festival Parade there were lots of bands and lots of majorettes, all performing their best. The year's work reached a triumphant climax when the G.H.S. Majorettes brought home the first place trophy.

Pioneers of the Future

The road has not been an easy one for the seniors, but their fortitude and perseverance have guided them to the end. Although the hardships have been many, the rewards have been great. Memories always treasured, friends never forgotten, and those who have helped along the way — all of these are invaluable souvenirs of their high school life.

Like their ancestors, they have cleared their own paths and must prepare for the even rougher road ahead.

Whether college bound or career oriented, these seniors will embark on their new journeys with an inner strength that has helped them survive and progress to this moment in their lives. They leave with great expectations.

Versatile Juniors Lead the Way

As an old saying goes, "Variety is the spice of life." This is certainly true of the Junior Class. They have displayed their versatility and variety in their individualism and enthusiasm for their high school. Their hard work has paid off and their contributions of spirit and determination have made a mark upon Giles. No task has been too great and they have attempted each expedition with assurance and success.

Also, by gaining their independence as capable leaders while still remaining true to their school, the Juniors have established themselves as a class able to extend their knowledge and experience as they look forward to becoming Seniors.

Juniors Display Many Moods

Greg Blevins checks his speech notes.

No, Kathy, typeovers are not allowed.

Juniors tack on the last of 5,000,000 tissues to their winning float.

John Erwin, Stanley Montgomery, and Paul McGuire appear to be handling this experiment pretty well.

Sophomores Are Ready For Anything

The sophomores had their share of challenges and victories this year and proved their irrepressible spunk by lassoing the pep stick at more rallies than any other class. They feel pretty confident now, having sashayed through the often dangerous times of being underclassmen and having taken the path that has been blazed by so many before them.

Because of the bonanzas of pep rallies, hall competitions, and Homecoming floats the Sophomores will continue on their happy trails and hope to belly up to the bar for a couple more rounds of high school spirit.

Freshmen Become Refined

Having left eighth grade with great promise, the Freshmen made some revolutionary changes since they settled into high school life. No more forgotten locker combinations, difficult schedules, or the lack of respect felt by most new students. The Freshmen have established themselves as highly spirited ladies and gents as seen in their displays at homecoming and sport events. As they look toward the future they will continue to polish their individualism and style to gain their rightful place in the history of Giles High.

We're Tough

Eighth Grade Class Officers: Todd Brewster, Treasurer; Kim Bradley, Secretary; Pam Long, Vice President; Tyrone Meadows, Reporter; Craig Whittaker, President.

“Hold It Mister, We’re Eighth Graders!”

Becoming an eighth grader is a big step and one that is full of adventure and anxiety. They became engaged in a way of life that was sometimes frustrating, but more often, a rewarding experience. Before pledging their vows, however, the eighth graders had to accustom themselves to new acquaintances, different teachers, and unfamiliar subjects. This new way of life may have come abruptly for the eighth graders, but after celebrating their first anniversary at Giles, they feel that they have adjusted very well and anticipate their future years of high school.

Our Leaders

Giles High has been fortunate to have been led and guided by some highly distinguished administrators this year.

Whether watering an office plant or posing casually at his desk, Mr. William Puckett was never too busy to help students or faculty with any problem.

A new and welcomed face this year was Mr. Bass who filled his position very efficiently, and as always, Mr. Clark established order and responsibility during the school year.
